Subject: Walk back your latest dangerous attack on strong science

Jul 3, 2018

Administrator E. Scott Pruitt

Dear Administrator Pruitt,

I'm writing today gravely concerned about your recent proposal to restrict EPA's ability to use life-saving science.

This proposal doesn't roll back red tape. Instead, it binds the process of legitimate scientific inquiry with it. It will obstruct EPA's ability to use highly reliable scientific information, including data used to determine whether chemicals and pollutants cause cancer, heart disease, and other health problems.

This proposal will undermine EPA's ability to safeguard the health and well-being of American families. Please abandon this attack on strong science. America's communities are counting on an EPA that uses the best and latest science to protect us.

The tactic of confusing "secret science" with the need for patient confidentiality is cynical, willfully deceptive, and dangerous to the American people you swore an oath to protect. Shame on you

Irvin D. Godofsky M.D.

Thank you,

Dr. irvin godofsky
